As Vice President of Business Development, Stephanie fosters client relationships by providing guidance throughout the settlement administration process. With more than eight years of experience as a class action attorney, Stephanie knows and understands the intricacies of class action litigation, particularly consumer protection, ERISA, and corporate mismanagement matters.

Stephanie began her legal career at Chemicles Schwartz Kriner & Donaldson-Smith LLP where she represented consumers and investors in complex litigation in federal courts throughout the country. Some of Stephanie's most notable matters include: In re Philips Recalled CPAP, Bi-Level PAP, and Mechanical Ventilator Products Litigation; Kukorinis v. Walmart, Inc.; and In re HomeAdvisor, Inc. Litigation. Prior to practicing law, Stephanie had a professional career in marketing, and print and digital advertising at Condé Nast Publications, and held marketing management roles at PNC Wealth Management's multi-family office.

Stephanie is an elected member of the Board of Directors of the Public Interest Law Center where she serves on numerous committees and is actively involved in fundraising efforts to support issues central to the Law Center's mission. The Law Center uses litigation, education, and advocacy to advance rights of communities in the Philadelphia region facing discrimination, inequality, and poverty.

Stephanie received her J.D. from Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law and was a CALI Excellence for the Future Awards Recipient. She received her B.S. in Business Administration from Drexel University Lebow College of Business and was a recipient of the Tom Ridge Scholarship for academic achievement.
